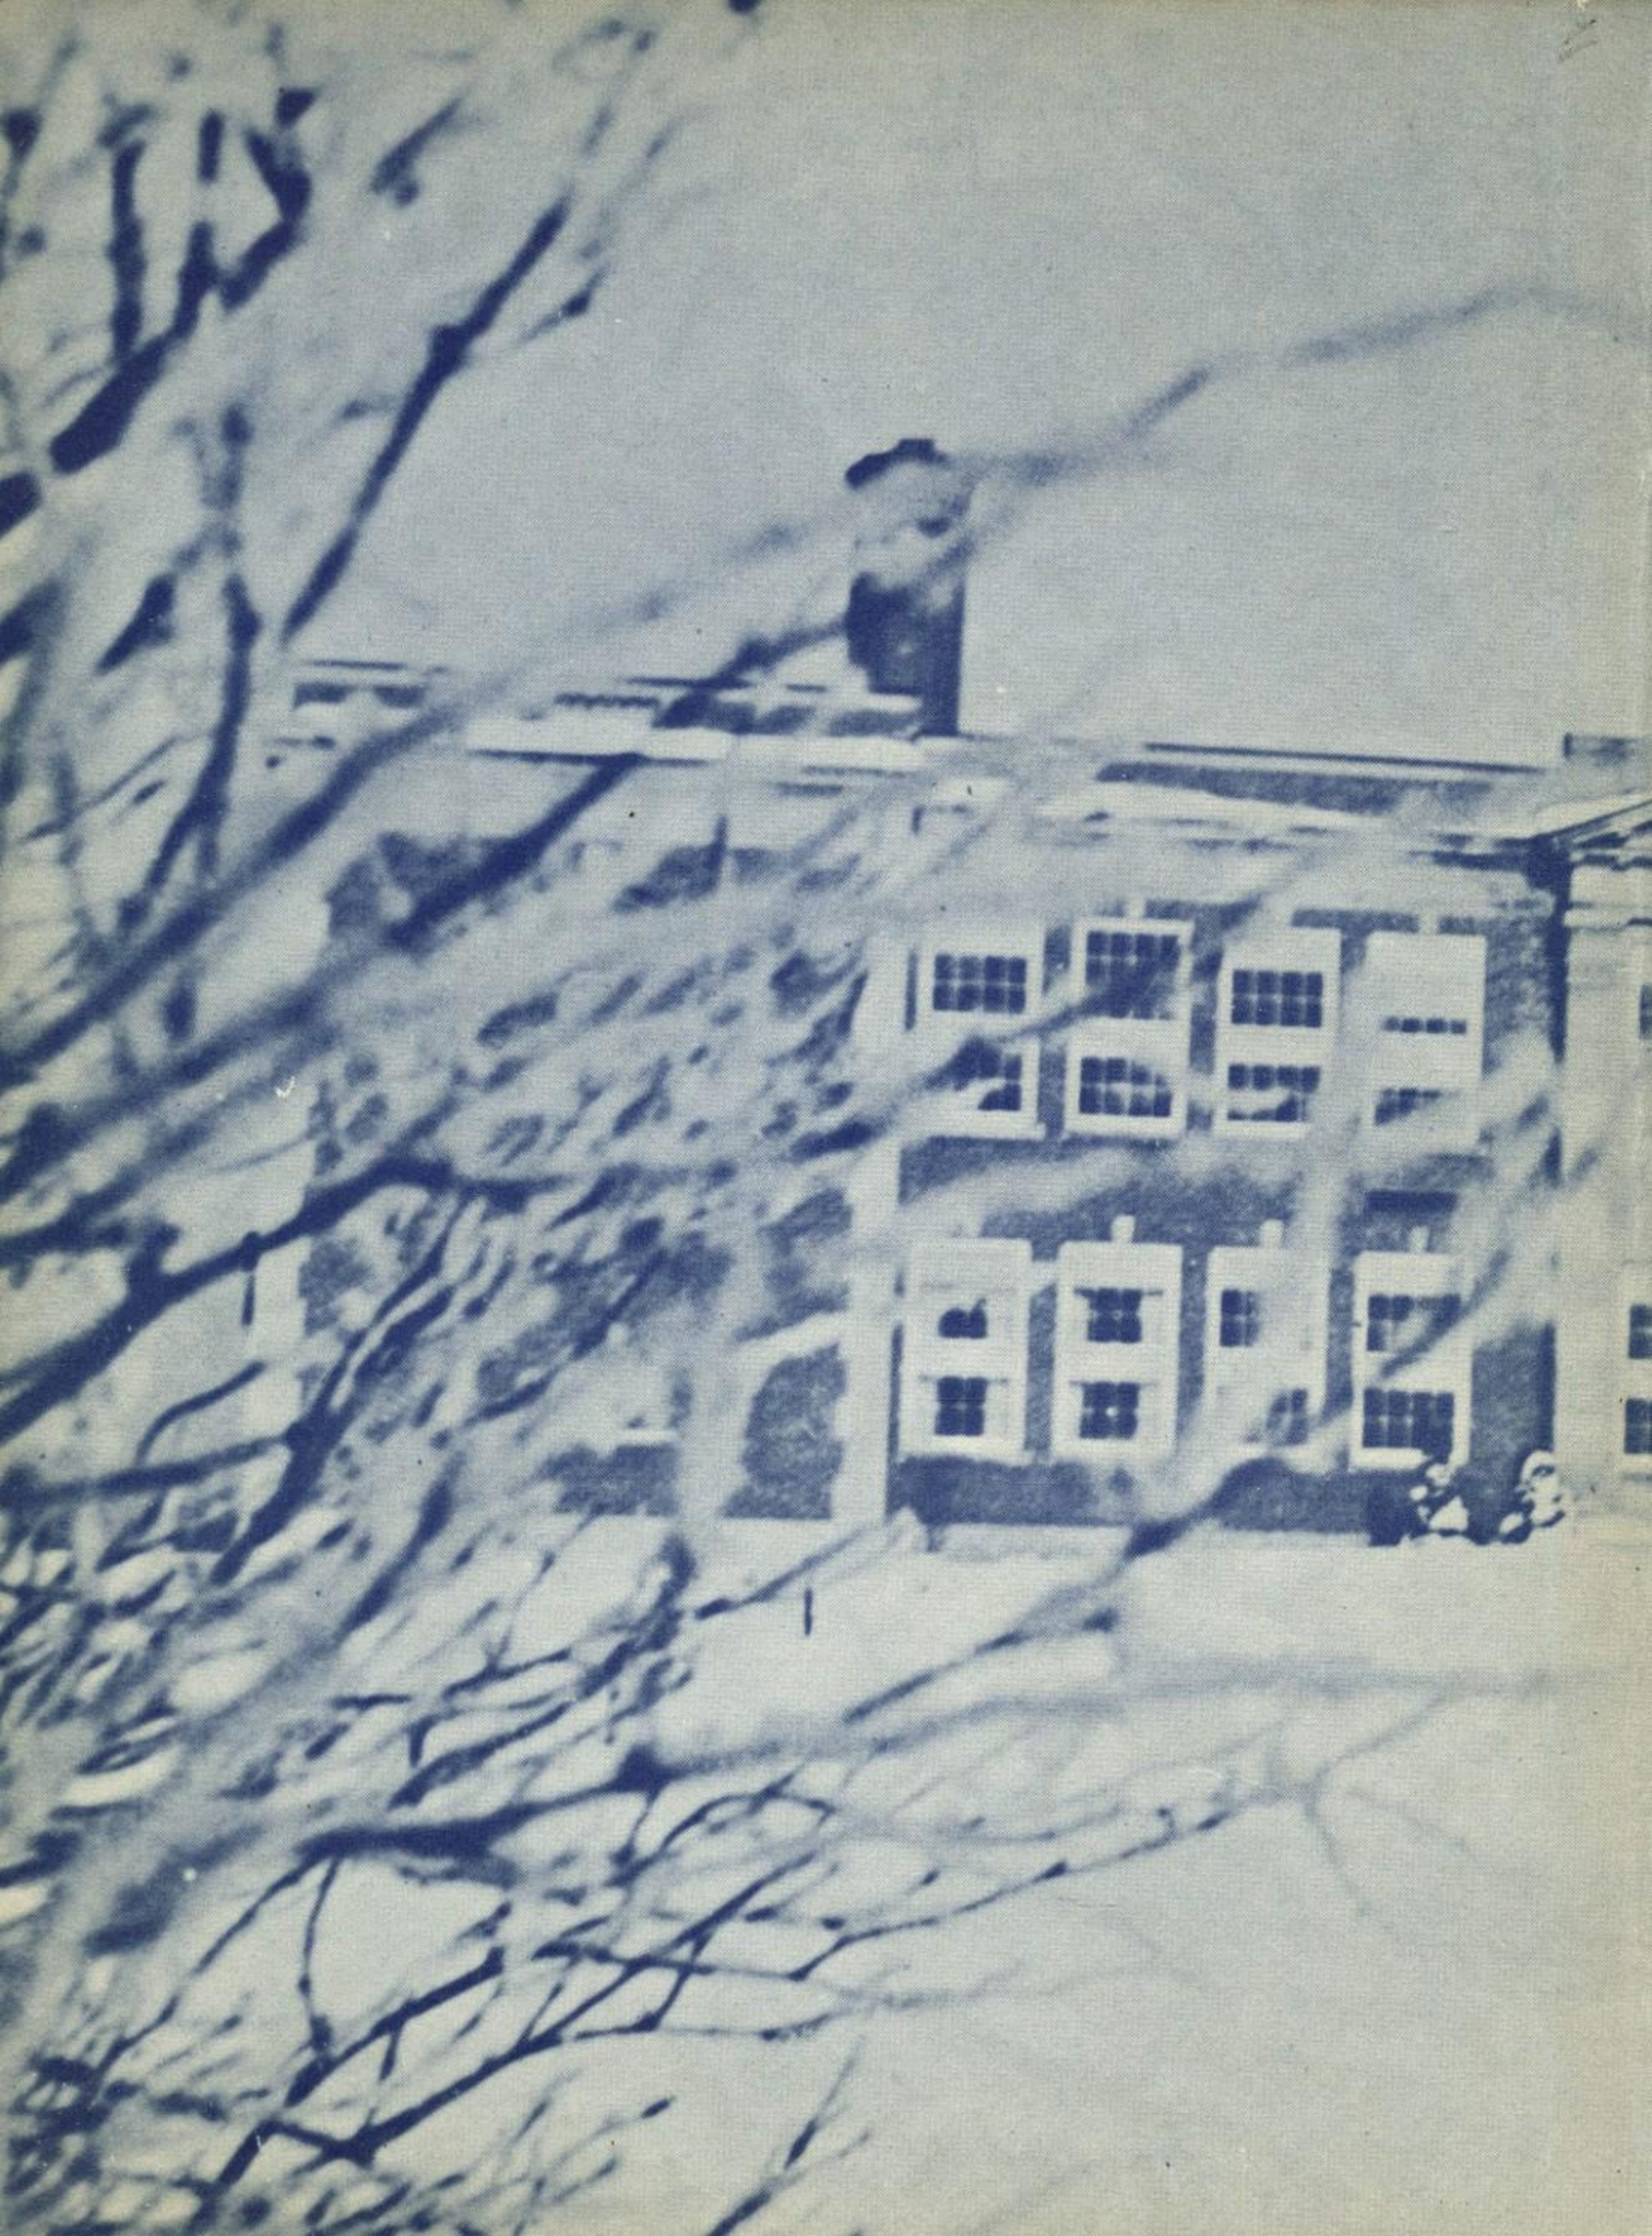
THE CREST

1946



O CHURCHVILLE HIGH

O Churchville High, thy Sons and Daughters ever
Will sing thy praise in accents fond and true.
Thy friendly walls and green clad fields surrounding
Will cherished be in all our thoughts of you.
And friendships' bonds we've forged in smiles and tears;
The joys we've had, - the triumph, -the defeat
Will each one serve our love of thee to heighten,
And make the name of Churchville High more sweet.

We pledge to thee that in the years before us
That, come what may, thine honor we'll not stain;
Thy banner fair we'll carry always forward,
Nor let it dip through thoughtlessness or pain.
And when at last there comes the time to leave thee,
And fleeting years go ever faster by;
We'll bend each power within us to be ever
True Sons and Daughters of old Churchville High.

CLASS PROPHECY

It Was In The Year 2000

Bang, Crash, boom! John Sackett just crashed into heaven and the Saint runs to greet him.

Hello Cricket, ole' boy, glad you finally gave up your farm and decided to drop in.

Yes, I guess I stood too close behind that baulky mule. I decided to come up and join the rest of the Churchville Saints. Say, that angel over there playing a harp looks familiar. Who is she?

Why, that's Carole Welsh - she's started an orchestra of her own. Yep - writes her own music too - learned how in Prof. Taylor's harmony class. She features Jean Gruendike on the clarinet. Mighty fine orchestra. You know, there are quite a few of your friends up here. Kenny James, Dallas Embling and Gerry Betteridge all came in together one night. I guess they were out riding around one night when Kenny's car went on the loose. Then there was another able fellow. Seems to me John Marcello was his name. Pretty lively fellow. I hear he was the one at Churchville who always did the work and got no credit.

Mighty interestin . Tell me more. I wonder what ever happened to Viv Liese?

She followed her "light house" beams right on up, and last week she walked up one of the beams. She brought Anne Thompson with her. Poor Vivian! She always did contribute so much to the poor.

Don Steg sure did a good job fixing my face. You know, he runs a funeral parlor on earth. Mighty good business he has too. Nelson Neal is his assistant. Clyde Thurley drives the hearse. You know that new plastic skyscraper in New York City? Well, that is one of Les Martin's new projects. Now he and Ellsworth Morey are working on a Jet-propelled casket. Great scientist those two men! I haven't seen Lois Mason in years. I believe that she married young and moved to some unheard of island in the Pacific. Said it was more private there - just she and her hubby alone on an island. Her friend Lila Jean Butcher was at home when I left. Of course you knew that Helen LaForce and Winnie Mullens started a home for old people. Now they are handing out rent to themselves. Joe Weidert won the greatest honor of all the class. He is running for mayor of Churchville - great job for such a talented man. No doubt a larger G. L. F. will spring up, also a canning factory. I believe Flora Morse was last seen working in a doctor's office. Always was her ambition. "Doctors", that is. Vivian Hill turned out to be another Elsa Maxwell. Her latest party was a round-up of the living graduates of the class in honor of Mrs. Marie Callan K____. After overcoming her fear of mice, Mrs. K. has started a hobby of raising pet Rats for home economics teachers. Joanne Madara has been teaching history for ten years - always was interested in it. Hazeltine Embling took a secretary's job in Washington. Married her boss too--she did! Elizabeth Ellinwood was engaged to be married, but without explanation. broke her engagement and joined the Old Maids Club of America.

Pretty active class, Cricket. I think I can locate the rest for you. Doreen Jakeman and Ella Mae Widger, after their mathematical career, took a trip abroad. Not knowing the fundamentals of navigation, they opened the wrong port hole one night and the water rushed in. They're both here now. Dick Haller served as judge for twenty years. The only thing is, one of the convicts got loose. Dick's been here since. While waiting for her husband to return home from the army, Eleanor Curts got so excited she mistook someone on a passing troop train for her husband and, for all I know, she may still b e chasing it. Ernestine Jakeman always did like typing so she hired out to all schools in New York State to do their typing for them. One day she became completely "typed out"and she joined the rest of the class here in heaven. Now that we have your class laid away, we are waiting for the Class of 47 to pour in. Won't be long now.

We are the Junior class. No don't close the book. We know our pictures might be a shock to you but hold on and read about what we have been doing this year. And what a busy year we have had!

To start the year off with a bang, in November, we sponsored a round and square dance. What a dance! We really thought of something "different"--and that was to make the dance a "circus dance". That is, the orchestra found themselves in a monkey cage, and cardboard animals were found around the gym. It was the clever idea of the decoration committee.

In January we put on an assembly program. It was an imitation of the first grade, and brought many laughs from the audience. John Lathrop's presentation of a "wolf" was--need I say more?

On March 8, we had our main event of the year. That, of course, was our Junior Prom. Ken Renick supplied the music and we really had a swell crowd. You all know the lights went out for an hour. We are still wondering who was responsible--Ahem? With the swell co-operation, the dance was a success.

Of course, we have a wonderful class adviser, Miss Welch, whom we all think is tops. It has been her guidance that has brought us through successfully. We all are grateful for her thoughtfulness and interest in us.

We have yet, this year, to take the Seniors on their annual spree. All expenses are on us--hmmm. Where we will get the money is another question. Even so, we are confident that we will "dig it up" from somewhere and come out with flying colors.

CLASS OF '48

Our Sophomore class this year has really been "on the beam". We started our high school career last year as ambitious freshman, but our graduation to Sophomores brought about a change. We came into the lime light at the beginning of the year by putting on the first dance of the season. We called it our "Victory Whirl", in as much as it was the first dance held at school since the end of the war. It was really a "super-duper" affair and did a great deal toward advancing our Class treasury.

This success was largely brought about by our new officers headed by Leon Hannah as president, Alma Jakeman as vice-president, Nancy Eagan, secretary, and Donna Thompson, treasurer.

Our Student Forum representatives were Don Jacobs and Alma Jakeman. However, since Don became a junior in January, we elected Dean Smith to take his place. When they informed us that the Student Forum wanted us to put on an assembly, we decided to show people that the Sophomores had plenty of talent. The highlight was the boys' dance which we won't forget right away.

Come Christmas time we, of course, had to have a party. We invited all the faculty members who did not have homerooms. John Jackson, as Santa Claus, handed out the gifts and we all had fun.

We are looking forward to our next two years in high school. We hope to make these years so successful that we may become a class of which dear old Churchville High may really be proud.

We all want to thank Mrs. Vanas; for she, with her clever ideas and real interest in the class has made our first two years of high school so successful.

CLASS OF '49

This year our class consisted of thirty-seven green freshmen, under the supervision of Mr. Hickox.

After the new members became acquainted, we had a class election. The officers elected were Jeanne Mason as president, Jimmy Liebeck - vice-president, Betty Beaman - treasurer, and David Liese - secretary. The Student Form representatives are Joan Lewis and Betty Beaman.

As yet we have had only one party but are planning a hayride for the future.

The Freshman assembly is being planned now, and we are going to try hard to beat the other classes when our turn comes.

The Junior Varsity basketball team was well represented this year by six Freshmen boys, while three freshmen girls cheered for the J. V.'s.

The class of '49 have a good start and they hope their next three years will be as prosperous.

Our Student Forum, under the guidance of Mr. Green, has had a very successful year.

Among its achievements was the purchase of a moving picture projector, a big step toward the improvement of the facilities of teaching.

This was done by the selling of pop through the help of various organizations and through the generosity of the Board of Education.

Other achievements were the sponsoring of a tea dance and the writing of a Constitution.

The officers are as follows: Kenny James - President, Flora Morse - Vice President, Lois Mason - Secretary, Betty Beaman - Treasurer.

We feel sure that the Student Forum will become an even more successful undertaking in the future.

CREST STAFF

The Crest staff (this year) was composed of students from both the class of '46 and '47. The seniors headed the groups as Editors-in-chief with junior partners or assistant editors from the Junior class helping.

The teachers were assigned as advisers to the different groups and have played a very important part in the running production of the book.

Students from the Freshman and Sophmore rooms have participated by writing and giving snapshots. All have been willing to help whenever needed.

The seniors voted on the dedication page and the orchids to you page. They decided on the main form of the book.

We are sure you will agree that the 1946 Editor-in-chief Jean Gruendike has done a good job, along with the rest of her staff.

We are very grateful to the business men of the town and of neighboring towns for their willingness in buying advertisements. Without their help, the book couldn't have been such a success.

SENIOR PLAY

Standing: M. Callan, V. Hill, F. Trost, E. Ellinwood, H. La Force, W. Mullens, J. Sackett, J. Gruendike, A. Thompson, D. Embling, H. Embling, D. Jakeman
Sitting: E. Widger, J. Madara, L. Mason, E. Jakeman, G. Betteridge, V. Liese, L. Butcher, K. James, C. Welch, D. Steg.

B "Life Begins at Sixteen" by Hilda Manning was the Seniors' selection for the class play. It was a story about what happened to the Hollis family when Mother and Dad had a chance to go to Havana for a month. All their problems, however, lead to a "And they lived happily ever after" ending.

Because of the numerous members in the class, there was a separate cast for each of the two nights the play was presented.

C Under the guidance of Mrs. Vanas, the magazine club have been doing very well. Their first issue was one of the best ever published at C. H. S.

The whole staff hopes to be able to provide the school with more and better issues as time goes on. This year they hope to establish a basis on which the Churchville Hi-Life can be a monthly issue, rather than just "now and then."

A junior high staff is an innovation this year, with Miss Campbell as adviser. Miss Welch has been the typing adviser.

Sitting: E. Brown, Editor-in-chief; S. Vail, R. Stowe, G. Kishlar

The F. H. A. (Future Home-Makers of America) is a new state-guided organization started this past year. It consists of only those who are in homemaking classes. The meetings are held after school.

The first of the year, with the F.F.A., we sponsored a square dance which proved to be very successful. The profits were divided and started an ample treasury for our new organization.

The F.F.A. has been very active this year. We started the year with two of our members becoming county officers.

We "joined the ladies" in sponsoring the square dance and again we went to Brockport to see the Cornell display train.

The annual June Rally, attended by all the County Chapters, was held in Churchville Park, a fine climax to a satisfying year.

Hi-News is a radio program where each school has its chance to tell of its activities, scholastic records and social affairs. Churchville was represented most often by these three reporters: Lois Mason, Kenny James, and Dick Frew. They told the public of our work here at Churchville.

The public speaking class, begun February 1, 1946, was organized by Mr. Olmsted. The class is progressing very fast under his guidance. We made one appearance on W.H.E.C. discussing the topic of Regents. Other main interests during the semester were speeches and debates.

The Music Council is made up of all the officers of all musical organizations. The group acts as a co-ordinator for the activities of all music organizations.

The work of the council increased as many new members have joined both the choruses and bands.

Under the direction of Mr. Taylor, a new organization was formed from a group of high school boys.

This group, in only its first year, promises to offer the other choruses some competition. It has performed at the Christmas program, the "Evening of Music", and the spring festival.

The Girls Chorus is one of the largest musical organizations. It's members come from the upper six grades. The girls are doing a splendid job by being cooperative and eager to advance. Under the direction of Mr. Taylor the group has shown much improvement this year. On the 15th of March an "Evening of Music" was held in which the girls sang several numbers. The program was very successful. Then, April 8th they entertained the veterans at the Veterans' Hospital in Batavia. Everyone enjoyed the trip. To complete the year, the annual Music Festival was held in May. Each year it improves, and continued interest of the girls makes it very successful. Some of the money raised by this organization was turned into the movie projector fund. The girls generally meet at least once a week and they may take music home to practice if needed. All in all, it is a very successful group and we hope it keeps growing.

We at Churchville are very proud of the Girls Ensemble. With this group of nineteen, Mr. Taylor has been able to work up a higher class of music, with selections of a more intricate nature.

The Jazz Band at Churchville High has improved greatly this year. David Young and Joyce Murphy recently joined the saxaphone section to add to the five from last year. Along with these additions, Frank Webb joined as piano player to make two pianists. Johnny Ames whistles besides playing the drums. Under the direction of Mr. Taylor, the Jazz Band has given the public some fine entertainment. The band hopes to continue its work another year.

This year's soccer team had one of the most successful seasons in many a year by taking the Class B Crown, a feat accomplished by no other C. H. S. soccer team.

They went through the season with a blazing record of 11 wins and 0 losses, being tied only by Spencerport in the first contest, minus the services of many of the late season veterans.

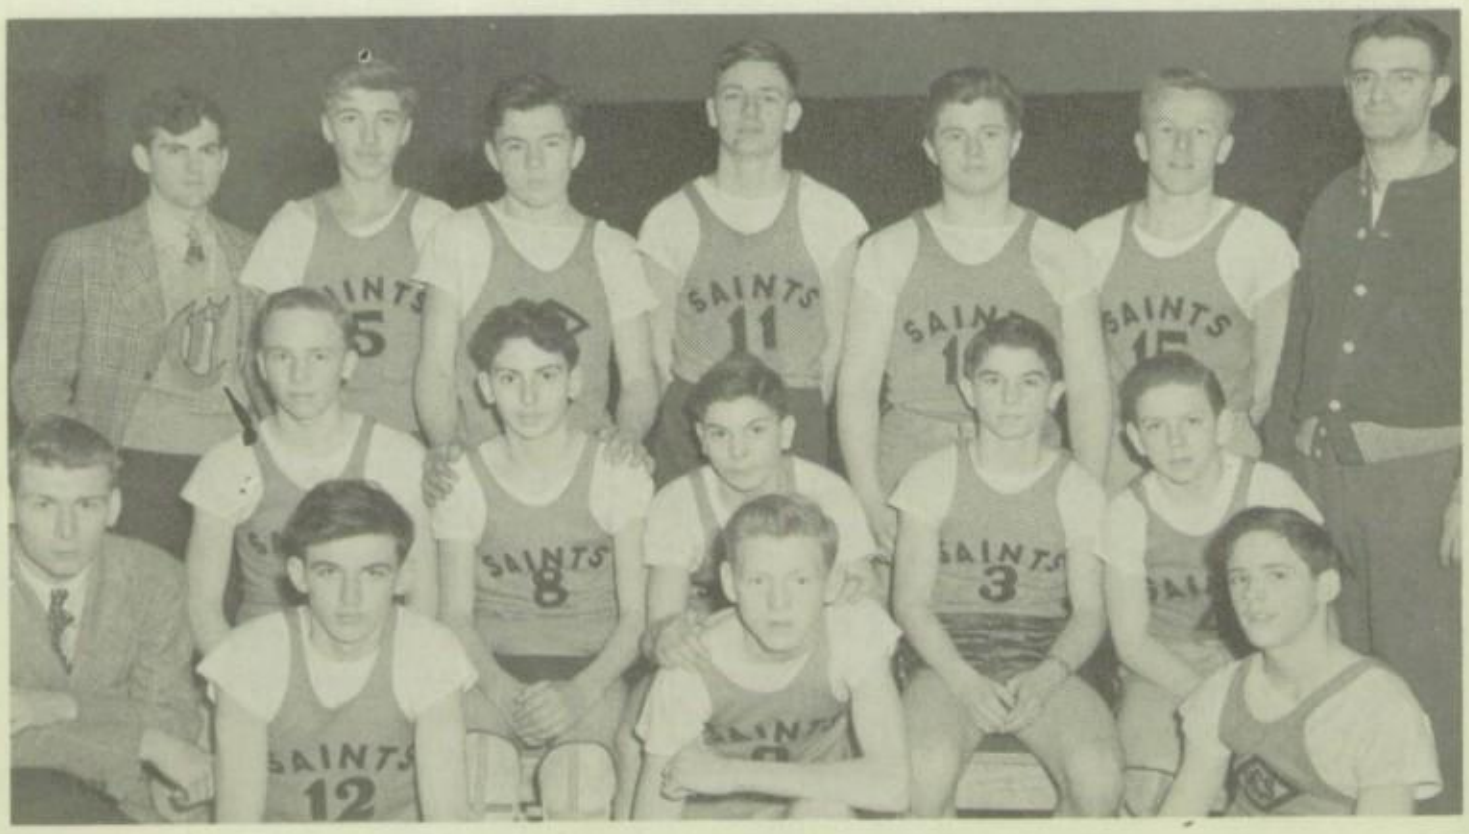
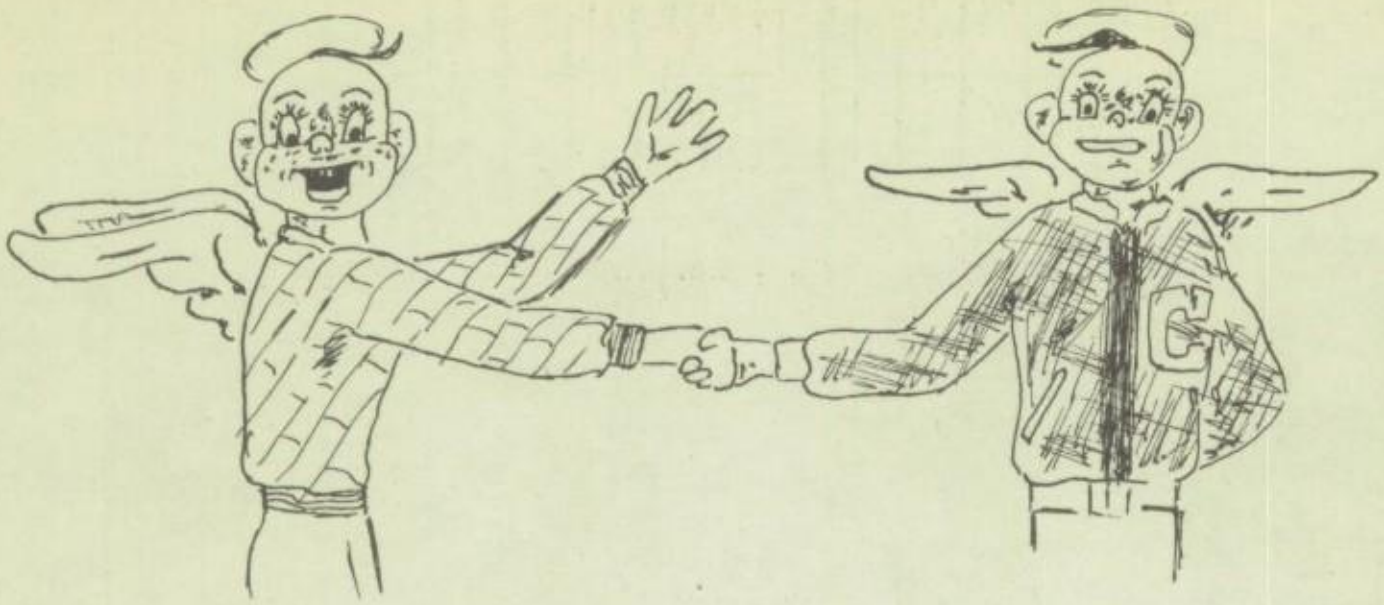
The basketball team this year was a success even if it did not succeed in winning the Monroe County "B" league title.

It gave each opposing team tough competition and was finally put out of the league only by Hilton, who won the county championship.

Under the guidance of Coach White, we are sure that Churchville will have an even stronger team next year.



1st Row kneeling: D. Smaltz Mgr., J. Leibeck, W. McFee, C. Beaman
2nd Row sitting: R. Bater, H. Malinowski, L. Hannah, R. Schwertfeger, J. Ames
3rd Row standing: L. Griffiths, R. Kohlman, C. Kendall, D. Young, J. Weidert, D. Jacobs, Coach White



The following excerpts are from a letter received by Coach White near the end of the 1945-46 Basketball season from a person who had rather full knowledge of our team, our Coach, and our games.

"Your boys have been most splendid. As far as I am concerned they deserve much commendation for their fine display of sportsmanship, competitive spirit, and never complaining attitude. In selecting a term most applicable to them and familiar to you, they can be justly called, 'good troopers', and in my personal estimation a very smart ball club.

Boys like that reflect the fine qualities of the school. The student body is only just as good as the school itself, and both have traveled well hand in hand.

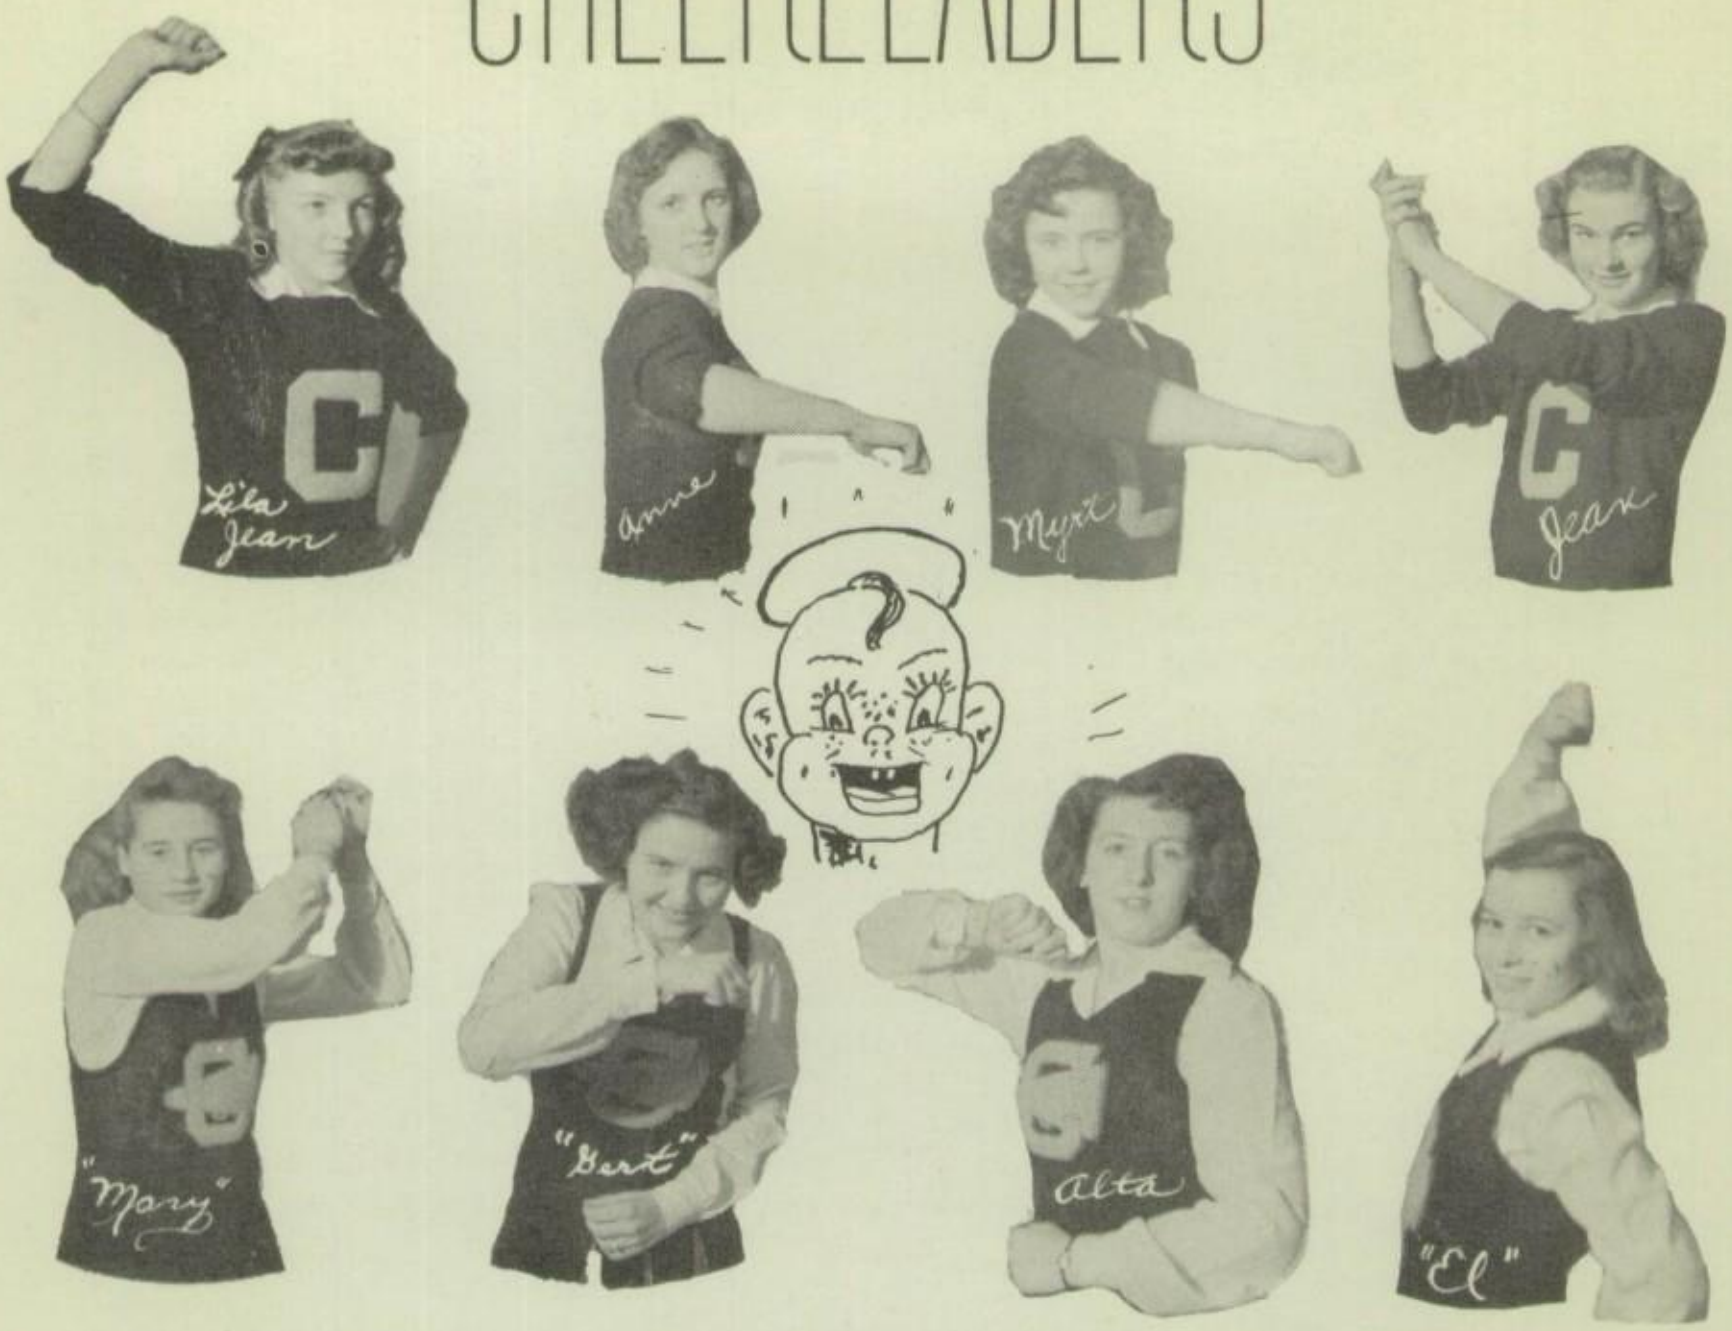
When these boys have completed their tenure at Churchville High School and have stepped out to make their way, they will prove a credit to the school, their instructors, and to themselves, for the knowledge and experiences gained as students will once more appear on the surface.

During the war, when fellows like yourself were serving the Nation, a number of schools and communities suffered for the lack of real coaches, and that was decidedly reflected in the play and mannerisms of those schools. Churchville, however, was an exception, as they upheld all traditions.

A coach is more than an exponent of play making, but a leader of boys, an artist who casts the die for molding characters. Some failed in their responsibilities, thereby losing all perspective. Not Churchville who was one who managed to tread the heavy waters on an even keel. A tribute to your predecessors and yourself. This year it has been a bit brighter with your type back in the fold.

In closing may I wish all that I have had the pleasure to know personally and all the others whom I have not met, the best in life. That they continue to play the game hard and seriously, but at the same time not to lose their perspective; and in order to succeed they must learn early to take soundings along the way."

CHEERLEADERS



Churchville's many cheerleaders, seventeen in all, have done a grand job in supporting the basketball teams this year.

The eight Varsity Cheerleaders worked together for the first time this year, in presenting effective formation for welcoming visiting teams and saluting the flag.

Leading the snappy cheers is only part of the job they are responsible for. Keeping the crowd quiet, when necessary, ushering spectators to seats, and several other smaller jobs are all part of being a "Cheerleader."

The Junior Varsity Cheerleaders are helpful in inspiring more interest in the second team games. They also gain experience which enables them to become Varsity Cheerleaders as they grow older.

Mrs. White, was their able adviser.

We are very confident in this year's baseball team and Coach White. Although we lost three regulars through graduation we have six regulars still playing. With Coach White and his ability in sports, we expect to come out with flying colors.

OUR ADVERTISERS

MY BROTHER - JIM

My brother Jim, - he's home now! He's been away all these years, you know, and how he's home -- for keeps.

I was young when my brother went off to war. He was near thirty-five. I was only fourteen. Now he's home. I have to keep telling you this to make myself believe it's really true.

My brother has changed -----lots. He's older now; his thin hair is thinner than ever up on top. He's tired of living under bosses so he has come back to the farm to work for himself. Jim can't sit still a minute. Since he's been home he's been down to the woods to cut trees, trimmed the old apple orchard, built Dad a new corn crib. This spring, we tapped the trees in the woods and boiled sap. We haven't done that since I was just barely old enough to play Old Maid while the sap boiled.

This is nothing different than what many other men are doing, I suppose, only, you see, my brother is something new to me, because I didn't know him before he went to war. We know each other better because I'm old enough to drive the car that three in our family have to share, I surprised him this winter I think. He had an idea that I'd be stuck in the snow a lot.

In one way my brother hasn't changed. He'll always consider me his kid sister. I'm glad, because you see I really am. The night he came home, I went down stairs to see him. The first word he uttered when he saw me was "Kid". That doesn't sound like much to you, but you will never know how bad I wanted to cry when I heard that word. And now he's home --- for keeps --- my brother, Jim

Hope you enjoyed your trip through our book! See
You next year!

O CHURCHVILLE HIGH

O Churchville High, thy Sons and Daughters ever
Will sing thy praise in accents fond and true.
Thy friendly walls and green clad fields surrounding
Will cherished be in all our thoughts of you.
And friendships' bonds we've forged in smiles and tears;
The joys we've had, - the triumph,-the defeat
Will each one serve our love of thee to heighten,
And make the name of Churchville High more sweet.

We pledge to thee that in the years before us
That, come what may, thine honor we'll not stain;
Thy banner fair we'll carry always forward,
Nor let it dip through thoughtlessness or pain.
And when at last there comes the time to leave thee,
And fleeting years go ever faster by;
We'll bend each power within us to be ever
True Sons and Daughters of old Churchville High.
